EganWall creates an unparalleled communication solution ideal as a dry-erase markerboard and data projection screen all in one.

EganWall features a lamination of polycarbonate Lexan™ with a synthetic fibre liner to achieve a thick, durable material suitable for installation by wallcovering professionals. EganWall is substantial enough to install smoothly over most wall situations and reduces small indentations and minor imperfections in the supporting wall finish to provide a superior presentation surface.

The EWP material shown here is ideal for projection applications with a 30° gloss rating and performs well as a dry-erase surface.

EganWall may be framed as required, please call Egan Customer Service at 1-800-263-2387.

Installed floor to ceiling on a 9' wall in horizontal sections

Final room controls were easily added to the installation.

Example: 9'h x 20'w Wall Installation

EganWall is offered 48" and 54" high, in one foot increments. The product may be ordered horizontally slit across the entire length to provide easy, large area installations with minimum seams. EganWall can also be precision cut in the field as required.

Team War Room

Floor-to-ceiling installation of EganWall, creates a powerful statement. Egan recommends installing in horizontal sections, with the first seam at 30" (desk height) from the floor. This reduces the appearance of seams at eye-level, and assures an installation that is ready to meet demanding communication challenges.
